

A very 'Royal' Royal

PRINCE CHARLES accompanied by Aberdeen-Angus society representatives, chief executive, Ron McHattie, and office manager Laura Stewart, gets to meet some champion stock at the Royal Show as he is introduced to the breed's male champion, Rosemead Jeronny, by stockman, Tom Beadle. Jeronny is owned by Angus Stovold, who also had the breed's overall champion (see our full report on a rather lacklustre Royal Show on pages 14 to 16)
